

Thanks for tuning in for Mindscape's quarterly newsletter.

Your organization currently subscribes to Mindscape Commons, a database of mental health skills-based video content. This is a FREE resource for you and your users.

Recently, Mindscape's Moments of Excellence in Counseling videos were featured at two U.S. academic conferences!

The National Career Development Association Conference, 2023, Chicago, Illinois

Moments of Excellence in Career Counseling: Multimedia Demonstrations of Evidence-Based Counseling Adaptations for Diverse Contexts

Participants learned how to use the interactive video series to train and supervise career counselors in diverse settings.

The faculty who presented:

Dr. Elif Balin, San Francisco State University

Dr. Mary Edwin, University of Missouri St. Louis

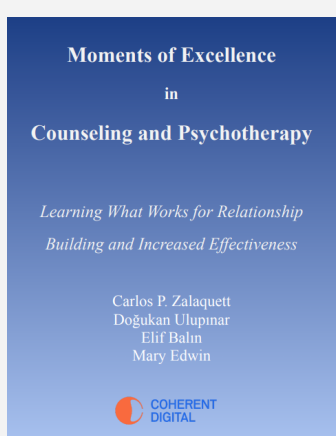

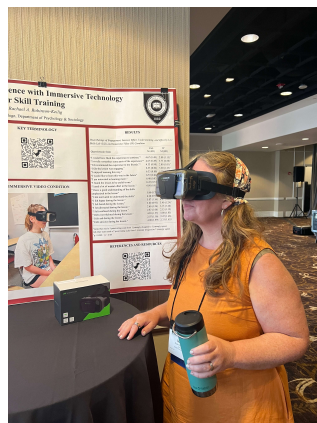

Dr. Zori Paul, Marquette University

Dr. Yangyang Liu, California State University, Fresno

The Teaching Professor Conference, 2023, Atlanta, Georgia

A Beginners Experience with Immersive Technology for Skill Training

Dr. Rachael Robinson-Keilig from Hastings College, Nebraska showcased some of Mindscape's 360-degree VR videos and demonstrated new ways for students to engage with mental health skill training.

Featured in The Association of Multicultural Counseling and Development newsletter, the Moments of Excellence series demonstrates how to foster a dialogue in culturally sensitive ways, adapt treatments, and build rapport with diverse clients within a School, Career, and Mental Health Counseling context.

The video series aligns with the Moments of Excellence ebook, an excellent resource for your skills, theories, or practicum course.

We're genuinely curious about the ways in which you engage with Mindscape's videos! Feel free to drop an email to Elizabeth Robey. Also, if you find yourself needing a comprehensive database overview or technical support, don't hesitate to reach out to Yoomna Rahim for assistance.
